If you have not qualified in this attempt

- Take a day to understand, then begin to plan. There have been many CAs who succeeded in clearing the paper in their subsequent attempt.
- Understand the reason behind loss of marks in the concerned paper (concepts, time management or writing skills).
- Improve the concerned papers and take the next attempt according to the ICAI schedule.
- Think about marks verification if you strongly feel that your marks are unjustified in relation to your performance. ICAI provides this facility, at an extra charge, within a specified period of time.

Some Common Errors Students Commit on the Result Day

- Relying on unauthorized dates and screenshots
- Publishing roll and registration number on any random websites
- Refreshing the screen repeatedly and crashing the screen for themselves
- Comparison of result with other students and losing self-confidence
- Delaying planning of the next attempt
